PICTURE RALLS AS WEAKLING; 6 TAKE STAND

SAYS YOUTH EASILY LED

Aunt Tells of Plans To Resist "Law"; Half-Sister Appears as Witness.

Special to The Star.

BUCYRUS, O., March 11—Defense attorneys this morning attempted to picture Blanton Ralls, 19, Crestline Negro on trial here charged with complicity in the slaying of Sheriff George Davenport, as a weakling easily led by others as the state started presentation of evidence with which it hopes to send the youthful defendant to the electric chair.

Defense counsel, Elmer Lutz and Arden Wisman, indicated that a stiff fight would be put up for the life of Blanton when a close cross examination was made of the most important of the six prosecution witnesses placed on the stand this morning.

Blanton, alone at the table with his attorneys, aided his counsel this morning. Although he apparently took little interest in the procedure, Blanton conversed with his attorneys when new points came up in the testimony.

Three Motions Overruled

Three motions have been filed by the defense since the jury was completed yesterday afternoon. Two of them objected to the opening statements of Prosecutor J. D. Sears and the introduction of any evidence under the indictment which does not charge first degree murder. A third asked the court to strike from the records the statements given by Blanton and Walter Ralls during questioning the day following the shooting. The defense maintained that Blanton's statement was given under duress while he was not present when Walter's statement was taken.

Trial Judge C. U. Ahl overruled all three motions this morning.

Mrs. Ralls Testifies

Mrs. Elijah Ralls, at whose home Sheriff Davenport was shot while attempting to arrest Blanton and Walter Ralls in connection with the theft of chickens, told the jury that the two men in company with her husband had gone to bed armed planning to resist any efforts to arrest them. She said that Blanton had a shotgun, Walter a rifle and her husband a revolver. Elijah was killed when he attempted to escape from the county jail the day following the shooting. Mrs. Ralls story was the same as told when Walter was on trial last week.

Under cross examination she testified that Blanton was easily led and would do anything anyone asked him to. She said that to her knowledge none of three men had

SLAYER LOSES FIGHT TO ESCAPE PENALTY

Supreme Court Denies Retrial to Canton Gunman; Killed Bank Guard.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—James Romeo of Canton, convicted of first degree murder of Charles N. Riblet, former chief of police and bank guard at Canton, must die in the electric chair April 24. The state supreme court today overruled his motion for a review of his case.

Romeo and another man by the name of Kish held up Jacque Morris, teller of the First National bank at Canton, and Riblet, who was guarding him as they were taking a shipment of $60,000 in currency to the postoffice to ship to the federal reserve bank at Cleveland, July 16 last.

Romeo and Kish ordered the two to throw up their hands but Riblet pulled his gun and started shooting. Kish was killed and Riblet injured fatally. He died four days later in a Canton hospital.

Romeo escaped with the money but was captured a few hours later by Canton police.

Army Flier Averages Four Miles a Minute on Long Flight.

NEW YORK, March 11—Captain Ira Eaker, who made a forced landing in Kentucky halfway between St. Louis and Dayton yesterday on his flight across the continent, hung up a record of 225 miles an hour—nearly four miles a minute—in a heavily loaded experimental plane before he was forced down, an official of the war department told the United Press today.

Eaker was not attempting to make a new transcontinental speed record, the official said.

NAVAL TERMS MADE PUBLIC

European Accord Seen as Decisive Step Toward World Progress.

WAR THREAT DIMINISHED

Success of World Disarmament Program at Geneva Brought Nearer.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 11—The terms of the British-Franco-Italian naval accord, transforming the London naval pact into a virtual five-power agreement, were made public today in the form of a memorandum by Arthur Henderson, the foreign secretary.

Its terms cover three outstanding considerations in the armaments situation—technical problems of European naval power are swept away; renewal of an armaments race such as led to the World was has, it is hoped, been prevented; success of the world disarmament conference at Geneva next year is brought measurably closer.

The 3,000 words of its text are the fruits of dramatic negotiations by Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, with representatives of France and Italy.

In Effect Until 1936

It is based on the principle of continuance of the present Franco-Italian tonnage ratio until 1936, filling a gap in the London treaty by bringing the French and Italian fleets within the effective operation of the pact signed at St. James' palace last spring.

More important than its technical aspects, however, may be the rapid substitution of political cordiality and cooperation among European naval powers for the suspicion and uncertainty which have existed since France and Italy withheld full agreement to the London pact.

Their threatened naval race never got started, but often it seemed imminent.

The new situation definitely

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 11—A whirlpool of charges growing out of the investigation of a "love bazaar" in which school girls allegedly were procured at high prices for men of wealth today engulfed Alexander Pantages, theater magnate ,who still is fighting a conviction of having attacked Eunice Pringle, young dancer, in August, 1929.

Home Burns in Farmer's Series of Misfortunes

Special to The Star

MORRAL, O., March 11—The gods of fortune today continued to frown upon Harley Cook, 45, farmer of one mile west of here.

Cook was awakened by neighbors this morning to be informed that his house was burning. It was destroyed from flames believed to have started from an overheated stove. The loss was $1,800, partially covered by insurance.

His wife and 15-year-old daughter Maxine died last fall from milk sickness, a rare malady. A short time later a brother-in-law, "Doc" Layman of Harpster, was killed in an automobile accident near Delaware. Cook also was stricken with milk sickness and was confined to his home for some time. His mother-in-law has been seriously ill with the same sickness.

Since the death of his wife, Cook has been living alone. This morning he built a fire in the store and returned to bed where he fell asleep. At 6:45 o'clock neighbors aroused him when they discovered the fire.

Lack of water prevented the Morral fire department from extinguishing the fire. Furniture on the first floor was saved. The house was a five-room frame structure.

Captive Eagle To Be Placed in State Preserve

A Golden eagle, captured in a hawk trap on the H. D. Sult farm seven miles east of here Saturday, will be taken to the Roosevelt game preserve in Scioto county this afternoon, O. H. Neimeyer, deputy state game protector, announced today.

The bird will be taken to the preserve rather than be released here, Neimeyer said. State game laws protecting the eagle prevent Sult from keeping it.

Declaring a hunger strike, the bird has refused proffered food since its capture Saturday in a trap baited with chicken.

It is the fourth eagle captured in Marion county in 15 years, according to Neimeyer. After examining the bird, Neimeyer said it is not fully developed and is a young bird. It has a wing spread of seven feet.

Neimeyer believes it is the same bird seen at various times in the vicinity of Big Island recently.

DELAWARE CHIEF'S HEARING TONIGHT

Liquor Graft Charges To Be Aired Before Civil Service Board.

Special To The Star

DELAWARE, March 11—A hearing before the civil service commission will be held tonight in the office of Mayor Fred C. Johnson for Chief of Police Earl Amrine, who yesterday was suspended by Johnson following charges of misconduct of office made by James M. Battenfield, director of public safety.

Battenfield charged Amrine with accepting alleged protection money from C. J. Horner of Delaware, who he says is a liquor law violator. The charges were contained in a written statement to the mayor.

The safety director said he was concealed in the rear seat of Horner's car on the night of Feb. 28 when Amrine allegedly accepted a $50 bribe from Horner.

Amrine denied the charges and declared the affair was a "frame-up." He demanded an immediate hearing before the civil service commission which is made up of Dr. W. A. Whitacre, W. A. West and J. H. Schaaf, local business and professional men.

E. M. Wickham, former common pleas judge of Delaware county, will defend Amrine tonight while the charges will be pressed by City Solicitor H. D. House.

Battenfield linked the alleged meeting between Amrine and Horner with efforts being made to get Lester Jenks, an alleged liquor law violator, released following Jenks' shooting by a policeman here that same night.

Mansfield's "Spoiled Heir" Goes to Prison

By United Press.

CLEVELAND, O., March 11—Henry Lewis, 19, of Mansfield, "spoiled" heir to $300,000 was sentenced today by Federal Judge Samuel H. West to 16 months in the U. S. reformatory at Chillicothe.

At a hearing before Judge West on Feb. 10, the boy pleaded guilty to the auto theft charge. He testified that wealthy relatives gave him a new car every month, 18 in all.

"When they refused to give me new cars I stole them," he said.

"The boy never had a chance. He had too many of the good things in life, too many cars, too many girls, too much money," his mother, Mrs. Pearl Lynch of Mansfield, told the court when the guilty plea was entered.

Virgil Kirkland Found Guilty of Slaying 18-Year-Old Gary Girl.

JURY OUT THREE HOURS

Four Others Face Trial as Result of Arlene Draves' Death.

By The Associated Press

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 11—Life behind the turreted walls of the state prison at Michigan City loomed ahead of Virgil Kirkland, 20-year-old steel worker of Gary, Ind., today.

The former high school gridiron star was convicted last night by a Porter county jury of murdering Arlene Draves, 18, his sweetheart during a "flaming youth" drinking party at an obscure Gary home last November.

Virgil Kirkland

The jury of nine farmers, a telegrapher, a bricklayer and a grocer, finished 12 days' work by finding him guilty of first degree murder and fixing his sentence at life imprisonment. This as an alternative from death in the electric chair which the state had demanded as punishment for the murder and attack on the girl.

Judge Grant Crumpacker will formally sentence Kirkland next Monday.

Jury Out Three Hours

The jury deliberated only three hours. With their verdict, the tense waiting of the first of the five youths charged with Miss Draves' death, was over.

Leon Stanford, second of the five, was brought here from Crown Point late yesterday and placed in jail.

The other three, Paul Barton, David Thompson and Henry Shirk, are confined at Crown Point.

Kirkland and Stanford had obtained a change of venue from the Lake county courts. The others will also ask for a change of venue.

POLICE HUNT CLUES IN MURDER OF GIRL

Authorities Press Search for Slayer of 10-Year-Old San Diego Child.

By The Associated Press.

(Picture on Page 11)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 11—A trail of tracks and finger-prints was sought today by the investigators searching for the slayer of Virginia Brooks, 10, whose dismembered body was found at Camp Kearney Mesa yesterday, just one month after her disappearance.

The girl's school books, evidently tossed from an automobile in a sack, with another which contained her broken body, were being examined. Imprints of tires left in the soft soil by the car which carried the bundles to the spot where George Moses, a sheepherder, found them, were photographed. Newspaper clippings, which tumbled out of the burlap sack with the body, were scrutinized.

These offered slender clues which might lead to the apprehension of a killer as brutal as the one who kidnaped, slew and dismembered Marion Parker in Los Angeles four years ago. It was through fingerprints that William Edward Hickman was identified and later executed for the Parker girl's murder.

The gruesome discovery by Moses, who was led to the sack by his sheep dog, convinced officers the girl had been slain in or near San Diego. Absence of blood on the burlap bag indicated the body had been stuffed into it only a short time before it was deposited on the mesa, fifteen miles north of San Diego, and that it had lain there not more than 36 hours.

PROGRESSIVES OUTLINE PLANS AS MEET OPENS

Tariff Revision To Expand Trade with Foreign Nations Advocated.

NORRIS SOUNDS KEYNOTE

Denies Third Party Program Urges Government Power Plant Operation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — A renewed disavowal that a new political party was being formed, advocacy of government operation of power plants and an eight point tariff program today were laid before the meeting of Republican and Democratic independents.

The independents opened a two-day conference to discuss a legislative program they hope to force through the next congress.

In calling the meeting to order, Senator Norris of Nebraska, projected the power use to the fore and replied to the questions propounded to him last night by Republican leader Watson of the senate with a reassertion that no new party was being created.

Senator Costigan of Colorado, a Democrat and a former member of the tariff commission, proposed the tariff program, which among other things called for tariff laws to promote "economic disarmament."

Fires Shots at Watson

Discussing the Watson questions which had touched upon prohibition, Russian recognition and 12 other subjects, Norris said:

"In the first place, Mr. Watson does not appear to realize that we are not pretending to be a political party; that we are not here for the purpose of organizing a political party. The question he propounded he had best to take home to his own political machine.

"Senator Watson used to be, before he became a senator, a lobbyist. I presume his former masters are better satisfied with his work in congress than out.

"The people of Indiana are as fine a people as you will find anywhere, but sometimes they do comical things. They certainly perpetrated a joke on the country at large when they elected little Jimmy Watson to the senate.

"We can't waste our time on those as far behind the procession as he is. Little Jimmy Watson ought to gather together his marbles, go out and hunt that boy Lucas and together they could have a fine game in the White House back yard.

Urges Tariff Changes

Following Norris, Costigan urged that special steps be taken to secure lower tariffs on articles not manufactured in the United States, and that the tariff policy be revised with the end in view of enlarging commerce with foreign nations.

He said the present sugar tariff had been of no benefit and recommended a moderate bounty for continental sugar producers which he said would have saved American sugar consumers several million dollars over the present schedule.

Costigan introduced Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, who remarked that the present tariff commission was organized "under the great engineer of disaster."

The reference to the President drew some applause and some laughter.

Blaine urged that a tariff commission be organized as an instru-

100 COUNTY FARMERS AT GRADING EXHIBIT

Cooperative Association and O. S. U. Instructors Here for Demonstration.

Nearly 100 Marion county farmers studied the livestock shipping business as a cooperative proposition and as the business looks to the packer or buyer when A. F. Potter of Cleveland, manager of the Producers' Cooperative Commission association of Cleveland, and others intimate with livestock handling staged a grading demonstration and a lecture meeting here today.

Potter's grading demonstration was given at the stockyards of the Marion County Livestock Cooperative Commission association this morning. Talks were given in Schwinger's hall during the afternoon session by both Potter and W. B Stout, of the rural economics department of Ohio State university.

The national setup of the livestock shipping association which handled more than $200,000,000 worth of livestock last year, was discussed by both Potter and Stout. Stout traced the setup through the state and county groups to the individual. Potter's talk dealt with the effort of the Cleveland association to better acquaint farmers with the wants of the market and to distribute information among Ohio farmers by radio and other means.

TB HOSPITAL DELAY LIKELY

Postponement of Action on Tuberculosis Institution Appears Probable.

CONDITIONS UNFAVORABLE

Commissioners of Five Counties Meet in Marysville for Final Decision.

Probability that definite action on the proposed district tuberculosis hospital will be postponed at least for another year was expressed by Marion county commissioners following a meeting with commissioners from Hardin, Union, Logan and Delaware counties yesterday at Marysville.

The boards of the five counties decided that the financial condition of each of the counties this year is such that voters would not pass the necessary bond issue required to finance the institution. Each county also is undergoing added expense this year due to the state-wide reappraisement, they said.

Although the project probably will be postponed until next year, the commissioners are to meet again on May 12 at Marysville at which time a definite decision will be made on postponing the project.

W. C. Ewing of Hardin county was named chairman of the joint board yesterday and O. C. McCurdy of Marion county was named secretary.

A speaker from the state department of health discussed the advantages of a joint hospital, pointing out that each county will eventually save money if the institution is built.

The hospital would cost approximately $400,000 and would have capacity of 100 patients. Marion county would be alloted 31 beds, Delaware, 21; Hardin, 19; Logan, 17, and Union 12. Each county would be assessed in proportion to the county tax duplicate, Marion's share being $124,000; Delaware, $82,000; Hardin, $76,000; Logan, $68,000, and Union, $48,000.

Keen Rivalry

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 11 — The biggest things in legislation nowadays is the different states' race for the divorce business.

Arkansas guarantees a divorce in three months, including room and board.

Nevada heard about it and called a special session of their legislature and says:

"We will give you one in six weeks, and if any other state goes under that time, we will give you a divorce, marriage, and another divorce all for the same time, and price.

"In other words, that's our business. We have built it up to what it is today.

"If there had been no Reno you would still have been living with the same old gal, so remember we are the state that will divorce you, even if we have to do it by telegraph."

HOOVER PLANS FOR VISIT TO HARDING TOMB

President and Coolidge Both To Appear at Ceremonies Here.

DONITHEN RECEIVES CALL

Frelinghuysen Notifies Executive Committee Member of Arrangements.

President Herbert Hoover is expected to come to Marion to dedicate the Harding Memorial on Tuesday, June 16, it was announced here this afternoon by Hoke Donithen following a telephone conversation with former Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. Frelinghuysen called from New York City.

Frelinghuysen told Donithen, who is chairman of the Harding Memorial association executive committee, that the President had expressed a desire to make the trip here sometime during the week of June 15 and had asked if Tuesday, June 16, would be an acceptable date to the executive committee.

Both Donithen and Frelinghuysen, who is president of the association, agreed in the telephone conversation this afternoon that June 16 would be a satisfactory date.

The request from President Hoover asking if June 16 would be acceptable, came in a letter to Frelinghuysen from President Hoover's secretary, Lawrence Richey.

Hoover will be accompanied by Calvin Coolidge, former president of the United States and honorary president of the association. Both Hoover and Coolidge will make addresses at the dedicatory program, Frelinghuysen advised Donithen.

Donithen said today he would call a meeting of the executive committee in the near future to make definite plans for the dedication program.

Several months ago Hoover announced he would come to Marion in 1931 to make the dedication address in honor of his former chief, under whom he served in the cabinet as secretary of commerce.

Later he announced he could come "some time between May 15 and Sept. 15."

When the association at that time learned of Hoover's acceptance, Donithen and Frelinghuysen were appointed as a committee to confer with the president regarding a definite date for his coming here. Since Frelinghuysen lives in the east, he has been handling that responsibility.

The program will be held in the afternoon.

EMBEZZLEMENT TRIAL UNDER WAY TODAY

Cardington Man Accused in Insurance Company Shortage.

Special to The Star.

MT. GILEAD, O., March 11—With 11 jurors tentatively seated to hear charges of embezzlement against O. C. Romans, former secretary of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Co. of Cardington, court was recessed today at 11 a. m. when the regular panel of prospective jurymen was exhausted. A new venire of 12 was ordered drawn.

It is expected that first testimony will be taken in the case this afternoon. Court will convene again at 1:30 p. m.

Romans is charged by the state with having embezzled approximately $8,000 from the insurance company in the last three years. Prosecutor Fannie Myers said that an examination of his books revealed alleged shortages from failure to give credit on the books of premiums paid by policy holders, overdrawing of his salary and maxing out and cashing unauthorized checks.

Romans pleaded not guilty to the charges when arraigned on an indictment returned by the January grand jury. Attorneys Benjamin Olds and T. B. Mateer are acting as his counsel while Prosecutor Myers is being assisted by Attorneys C. H. Wood and P. H. Weiland.

Jurors tentatively seated this morning were Doles Bachelder, Mrs. Vertie Russell, Mrs. Jennie Edmunds, Charles O'Shaughnessy, Charles C. Clark, Earl Pinyard, George Ritzler, Mrs. Glen Bolinger, George W. Fricke, Mrs. Lucille Hays and Clayton Eckert.

Bucyrus Railroad Shops Will Be Closed for Three Weeks

COURT GRANTS N.Y.C. REQUEST

No Date Set for Hearing on Motion To Dissolve Injunction Held by City.

Special to The Star.

BUCYRUS, March 11—Assuring the city that they were acting in good faith and not attempting to violate the terms of the temporary injunction granted against the New York Central Railroad Co., railroad attorneys and L. E. Emery, general manager of the Ohio Central Division, met in a conference with Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl and City Solicitor Charles F. Schaber Tuesday afternoon and requested that the railroad company be allowed to close their repair shops for a period of three weeks, from March 14 to April 6.

This closing is in line with policies of the railroad company each year at approximately this season and is executed as an economic gesture. Shops throughout the entire line including two Ohio shops, one Indiana and one New York shop will be effected by the three-week enforced vacation.

After assuring the court and solicitor that they did not wish to violate the court order and that the shops would again resume activities after April 6 Judge Ahl granted the request.

During the course of the conference Mr. Emery stated that the Bucyrus heavy repair shop was in better condition than any other shop on the line for motive power.

That the company has not asked for a date to be set for hearing on the motion for dissolution of the injunction filed Tuesday ,s taken here as an indication that the company intends to make no immediate move to force a show-down on the temporary injunction

Gassy Stomachs Made Well

Every person who is troubled with gas in the stomach and bowels should get a package of Baalmann's Gas Tablets and see how quickly they will relieve all distressing symptoms.

Sharp pains in the abdomen or about the heart are often due entirely to gas pressure. Sometimes the circulation is restricted, causing the hands and feet to grow numb. Usually there is much gurgling or rumbling in the bowels. Many sufferers complain of a groaning feeling in the stomach, extreme nervousness, heartburn, drowsiness after eating, headaches, dizzy spells or labored breathing.

Baalmann's Gas Tablets taken at meal time not only prevent all bad effects from gas, but they invigorate the weak nerves of the stomach and assist in restoring the whole digestive system to proper working order.

Genuine Baalmann's Gas Tablets—in the yellow package—can be obtained at any good drug store. Price $1 everywhere.

Under his leadership the Mt. Gilead and the Cardington Presbyterian churches were united.

ASKS INVESTIGATION OF NEW YORK MAYOR

Jimmy Walker Latest To Come Under Fire in Sweeping Probe.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—Mayor Walker was under bombardment today by citizens demanding that his official acts be investigated.

Already magistrates' courts and the county district attorney are under official scrutiny. The mayor appoints magistrates. The district attorney is elected.

In a letter drafted for submitting to the legislature, the Society for the Prevention of Crime asks that Samuel Seabury, already conducting two inquiries for Governor Roosevelt, be empowered to inaugurate a sweeping investigation of the municipality, aiming at the removal of Mayor Walker, now enroute to California for a vacation.

While Samuel Marcus, counsel for the society, refused to divulge the charges, newspapers understood they accused the mayor of nonfeasance in office without reflecting on his personal integrity.

A citizens' committee of one thousand to support such a cause as proposed by the anti-crime society is being formed by the Citizens' union. Its objects would be to crystallize public opinion, to aid the spotlighting of official corruption and to inspire confidence in citizens who might furnish evidence.

Various policemen are having departmental trials as a result of revelations in the magistrates' inquiry. The mystery of the slaying of Vivian Gordon, Broadway and vice graft informant, continues unsolved.

PROHIBITION DISPUTE DEVELOPS OVER BILL

Anti-Saloon League Charges Proposed Act Aimed at Dry Law Cases.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Stamped with the complexion of a prohibition measure the Addison bill, extending the right of jury trial to persons accused of misdemeanors, awaited the consideration of the house today after having been recommended for passage by the house judiciary committee.

The wet and dry argument was injected into a committee hearing on the bill last night when Will J. Foster of Cincinnati, who said he represented the Anti-Saloon league, appeared to oppose it. The bill provides that any person charged with a misdemeanor may have a jury trial, whereas such cases in the past have been disposed of chiefly by judges.

Foster told the committee the bill would interfere with law enforcement and expressed the opinion that it was aimed primarily at liquor law cases. Representative Hugh E. Addison, Democrat, of Columbus, author of the bill, took issue with him.

The state rural police bill, opposed by labor, but supported by the chamber of commerce and organizations of bankers and manufacturers was given another hearing before the house motor vehicles committee. No decision was reached and further hearing will be held next week.

Labor opposed the bill as an "extravagant" measure which eventually would lead to a state constabulary having authority in labor disputes.

JOSEPH P. COTTON IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Notable Career of Undersecretary of State Comes to Close.

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 11—Ending a career that was unique in the fields of diplomacy, law and finance, Joseph Potter Cotton died here yesterday after having undergone two major operations in six weeks.

He was regarded as one of the keenest men ever drafted into government service, working as undersecretary of state in a manner that brought him praise from all. He came from a private law practice many times more lucrative than the $10,000 a year salary he received.

With him when he died in Johns Hopkins hospital were his wife, his daughter Isabel and his New York law partner, George S. Franklin. He had been visited by his chief, Secretary Stimson, and the White House physician, Dr. Joel T. Boone.

Born at Newport, R. I., July 22, 1875, Cotton graduated from the Harvard law school 25 years later.

A friend of President Hoover because of his work with the chief executive when the latter was food administrator, he was appointed undersecretary of state in May of 1929. He was an easily approached, indefatigable worker, using his background to decide moot questions without lengthy deliberation.

In Washington President Hoover saw the death as a "great loss to the government and to our country." Secretary Stimson said Cotton had "rendered service of literally inestimable value."

Police said that after he received a telephone call from Mrs. Mary Wells Gustafson, threatening to take the children to the home of her mother in Boston, he vowed he would kill himself. As she phoned for Pullman reservations, she heard a shot and found him lying on the floor with a wound in the temple. He was dead when a doctor arrived.

Mr. Gustafson, 42, created the role of Maccus in "The King's Henchmen" and had acted the viking in Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Sadko."

IN ENGLAND, when judge and jury agree that a man has committed murder, they hang him and waste no time about it. The criminals know that, and murders are few.

Yesterday, British justice hanged Alfred Arthur Rouse, who tried to "die by proxy." He murdered a man, so the jury said, put the corpse in his—Rouse's—car, and set fire to the car. The prosecution never discovered the dead man's name. It was a matter of circumstantial evidence. But there was the dead body, and Rouse, and the evidence. And yesterday Rouse was hanged, protesting that he was innocent, which, undoubtedly, he was not.

In this country he would have had at least a year to think it over, with the regulation appeals and postponements, and he would probably have escaped with brief imprisonment or none.

The British are thorough. We have more than 20 murders for every one of theirs.

Whelan charged Jobelmann and Mrs. Day, alleged operators of the "girl mart," brought Helen Livingston, 17, here from Los Angeles Oct. 30 last with the assistance of Mills, and that Shreve paid the girl for acting as Pantages' companion at a hotel. The second complaint charged that Lydia Nitto, 16, another purported "market girl" similarly was brought here by Mills, Shreve, Jobelmann and the woman.

Shreve surrendered and posted $25,000 bond. He denied all the allegations.

Pantages Denies Guilt

Pantages, who was in Agua Caliente, Mexico, with Mrs. Pantages, when the charges were filed, said over the telephone he was innocent.

Jobelmann was held in jail in Los Angeles, while Mills and Mrs. Day were released after posting $25,000 and $5,000 bonds, respectively.

Investigators said Miss Nitto and Miss Livingston had made complete statements regarding the trips to San Diego, and that they had obtained corroborative evidence from hotel employes.

Bulkley of Ohio Included in List of Senators Attending.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—The list of "members registering" with the progressive conference today showed nine senators in addition to the five who called the meeting. It showed 16 members of the house, including representatives of both parties.

Such a group, if welded into a working unit, would easily wield the balance of power in the congress meeting next December in which the two parties are almost evenly divided.

The nine senators were: Republicans—Frazer and Nye of North Dakota; Blaine of Wisconsin; Brookhart of Iowa, and Schall of Minnesota.

Democrats—Bulkley of Ohio; Thomas of Oklahoma, and Walsh of Massachusetts.

Farmer Labor—Shipstead, of Minnesota.

Senators Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, and Cutting of New Mexico, Republicans, and Wheeler of Montana, and Costigan of Colorado, Democrats, called the meeting.

Senator Borah of Idaho will speak before the conference but he was not listed as a member.

Returned Missionary To Speak at Meeting

Mrs. Grace Steigerwalt, a returned missionary, will speak at a mid-week prayer service at the First United Brethren tonight. The Women's Missionary association will attend the meeting in a group.

The Otterbein Guild Girls will also attend the meeting. Special music will be given.

Annual election of officers of the Women's Missionary association of the church will be held Thursday at 2:15 p. m. in the community house. The association has 73 members. The election will be a part of the monthly meeting.

NAVAL LIMITATION TERMS MADE PUBLIC

eliminates the possibility of such competition.

The agreement was published as a "memorandum on the results of the negotiations with France and Italy for the reduction of naval armaments."

The memorandum states agreement has been reached by the three nations on all points. Terms of the settlement are dependent upon the approval of all signatories to the London pact, including the United States and Japan.

Probable Tonnage

It is estimated by naval experts that France will continue to hold a superiority of about 157,000 tons over the Italian fleet, although this is not stated explicitly in the memorandum.

Under the new accord France and Italy accept all provisions of part three of the London naval treaty which they declined to approve last spring.

The whole agreement looks forward to general revision of the naval question in the course of the disarmament conference at Geneva next year.

The necessity for national economy in the present period of world depression probably was a contributing factor in the success of the negotiations.

PICTURE RALLS AS WEAKLING AT TRIAL

been drinking the night the sheriff had been shot.

Ruth Ralls, 11-year-old half-sister of Blanton, told of Walter and Blanton calling at their home the afternoon preceding the shooting. She said she saw but one gun—a rifle. A change in her story as given last week was noted at this point. During the trial of Walter she said that the men had two guns. She was not cross examined.

Fred Vogel, from whose farm Walter and Blanton are alleged to have stolen chickens, was the first witness called by the state. He told of discovering the loss and of tracing the sale of them. Virgil McCumber, who bought chickens from Walter, also testified.

Blanton denied any connection with the shooting and the theft of chickens when first questioned after the slaying, Deputy Sheriff Otto Steiger said. After being allowed to communicate with Elijah and Walter, Steiger said he returned to make a statement which implicated him.

At this point the state introduced the signed statements obtained from both Blanton and Walter Ralls. Blanton's statement told of the trio's plans to fight the "law." He said that Walter told him to use the rifle in case efforts were made to arrest them and that the weapon was placed on his side of the bed.

During the cross examination the defense attorneys attempted to determine if Blanton said he assisted in the plans to fight it out with the arresting officers Steiger, unable to answer this, said he did not remember the exact words.

The contents of the statements were verified by D. J. Robertson, jailer. The defense attorneys brought out that he carried a gun which was in view during the questioning.

The trend of the defense counsel's cross examination this morning indicated that they would attempt to prove that the statement from Blanton was obtained through intimidation.

Prosecutor Sears demanded the death penalty in his opening statement before the jury. He said that there could be "but one verdict in justice to the state and defendant"—that of first degree murder.

The defense made just a short statement. It said that the defendant pleaded not guilty to the indictment and that the evidence was expected to show that he is not guilty of first degree murder.

The jury composed of 10 men and two women and a woman alternate were sworn in at 1:48 and were immediately after taken to Crestline, at the request of defense and state counsel, in charge of the sheriff and several deputies.

Galion is represented by six jurors, Bucyrus, four, one from New Washington and one from Tiro. The jurors selected from forty-two prospective jurors examined are as follows: Ida I. Miller of Bucyrus, Charles A. Cleland of New Washington, Mrs. Nellie Heller of Bucyrus, Calvin J. Tracht of Galion, H. H. Sharp of Galion, William Cronenwett of Galion, Carl Hocker of Galion, Charles Fleg of Tiro J. J. Neuman of Galion, J. F. Warner of Bucyrus, F. B. Wiley of Crestline, Verne Kiess of Bucyrus, and Mrs. Lottie Marsh of Galion, alternate.

Prospective jurors examined Tuesday afternoon were Verne Kiess of Bucyrus, Frank J. Crowell of Crestline and Mrs. Lottie Marsh. No peremptory challenges were exercised following the noon recess but one juror Charles W. Chubb of Galion, the first tentative juror seated Monday, was excused by the court upon further questioning. Mr. Chubb stated that he thought his religious convictions would influence his decision.

Virgil Kirkland Found Guilty of Slaying 18-Year-Old Gary Girl.

accused youth, his face drawn and chalky. Nearby was his mother and stepfather. They had mortgaged their home to secure adequate defense for Virgil.

Across the chamber was the bent father of Arlene. Three of Arlene's four brothers were sitting by his side. The three sisters were absent.

Defendant Under Guard

An extra detail of deputies surrounded Kirkland. He was handcuffed to Sheriff Burney Maxwell, who remained alert during the final stages of the trial. The extra deputies were there, not because it was feared Kirkland would escape, but because rumors had been heard that fellow workers of Arlene's brothers would attack the defendant if acquitted.

When the jury returned its verdict there was no demonstration. Kirkland, who rarely showed signs of emotion, remained unperturbed. His mother, sobbing, rushed to him.

Connie Mack Content To Stand Pat on Veterans in 1931 Campaign.

By The Associated Press

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 11—Age has begun to creep into the joints of the Athletics. The machine that has steam-rollered its major league baseball opposition for two straight seasons shows some signs of wear and tear, but the six main reasons for the rulership of the Philadelphians remain sound in body and spirit.

The infield is well fortified elsewhere in reserves, with Phil Todt, late of the Red Sox, to sub for Foxx and Eric McNair as understudy for Jimmy Dykes at third. This is his fourteenth season but Jimmy still dresses, acts and chatters like a collegian.

SHARP LOSSES ON BIG BOARD

Railroad Dividend Reductions Cause Decline in Numerous Issues.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—Reduction of the dividend of one of the premier trunkline railways took the wind out of bull sails in the stock market today.

Losses of 1 to 7 points or more became fairly general among more active issues as the day wore on, but it was notable that stock was not urgently pressed for sale, and principal issues were well taken on the way down. Reduction of New York Central's annual dividend from $8 to $6 on the day succeeding the flotation of a large bond issue came as a surprise to some quarters, although it was well known that current earnings did not support the higher rate.

The mid-week business statistics were confusing, and traders seeking indications as to trends in the near future were left in a quandary. Particularly difficult to interpret were the mixed opinions expressed by the weekly steel trade reviews.

"Iron Age" reported ingot output at 55 per cent of capacity, against 53 a week previously, the best gain in several weeks. "Steel," on the other hand said that demand had ebbed during the past week, and operations were only a fraction higher.

The Pennsylvania railroad, which serves much of the country's important industrial area, reported that car loadings for the first week of March were the best of the year, so far.

Weekly petroleum statistics, showing a gain of over 30,000 barrels in daily crude output, and some 1,000,000 barrels in gasoline in storage, were distinctly unfavorable for a period of seeping price declines.

On the other hand, nothing developed to impair the brighter long term business outlook. Indications of improving conditions abroad appeared in pronounced strength of the Berlin boerse and continued gains in Latin American exchange rates.

Call money came back to 1½ per cent, after renewal at 2.

WHEAT PRICES GET SETBACK

Weakness of Liverpool Quotations React Against Domestic Grain Values.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11—With Liverpool wheat quotations showing a decided setback, grains averaged lower early today. The downturns at Liverpool were ascribed largely to weakness of Argentine markets and to selling by United States government sponsored agencies in European continental centers. Opening unchanged to ⅝ cents lower, wheat afterward held near to the initial figures. Corn started at ⅜ off to ¼ up, and subsequently tended to sag.

Reported pressure of Argentine wheat offerings abroad gave bears in Chicago an advantage at times, and so too did Washington crop reports stressing beneficial effects of recent heavy snow and rain in domestic winter wheat territory. The bearish influence of Argentine wheat pressing for a trans-Atlantic outlet received emphasis also from advices that there was virtually no demand at Liverpool.

Adding to handicaps of wheat bulls were reports that Australian overseas shipments so far this season totaled about double what they were a year ago. Nevertheless, the crop percentage exported both from Australia and Argentina remained less than was the case last year. A further bearish influence was announcement that Canadian exports to date since July 1 last, aggregated 58,000,000 bushels more than for the same period a year previous, whereas United States exports showed 18,000,000 bushels decrease. Corn, despite diminishing receipts sympathized with wheat weakness. Oats were relatively steady.

Provisions responded to downturns in hog values.

SOLVE MYSTERY OF STOLEN AUTO TAGS

Plates Taken from Green Camp Car Used on Machine in Two Robberies.

The mystery of the theft of license plates from the machine of George W. Reynolds, 20, of Green Camp Monday was partially cleared today when Sheriff Charles C. Fye received word from Springfield that two robbers who held up two Kroger stores there Monday had Reynolds' license plates on their machine.

Reynolds was arrested Monday when license plates belonging to H. W. Hane of 397 Mt. Vernon avenue were found on his machine. He explained to the satisfaction of police officials that he had no knowledge of the plates and was released. His own plates had been taken from the car when Hane's were affixed.

The Springfield robbers are believed to have made the transfer and to have used Reynolds' license plates on their machine when they committed the Kroger store robberies in Springfield.

They obtained $70 from one store and a few minutes later held up another on the same street, escaping with $49.35. Both carried revolvers which they wielded during the robberies.

Both escaped in the direction of Marion, according to the letter received by Fye.

CITY MAY GET AIR LINE STOP

Chicago-Pittsburgh Express Firm Asks Information on Port Here.

Marion may become a regular stop on a proposed inter-state air express and passenger line, it was indicated today in a letter received by Mayor L. Don Jones.

A company known as the Chicago-Pittsburgh Air Express line has been formed to operate express and passenger airplane service between those cities and intermediate points, according to a letter from H. F. Madden, head of the company.

When Madden first inquired concerning Marion's airport facilities several weeks ago, Mayor Jones sent full details of the port, and other information. He invited Madden to come to Marion soon and discuss the proposed line.

In an answering letter received today, Madden said he would be glad to send a representative of the company here some time late this month if a meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce and interested civic leaders could be arranged.

The Marion Kiwanis club has also invited Madden to come to Marion and discuss the proposal before the club.

In his letter today, Madden explained that the company probably would employ a man to assist in the loading and unloading of express packages at the port, and to take care of ticket sales, if Marion is made a stop on the run.

Waterway Group To Meet at Hotel Harding Tonight

George Whysall, Chairman of Chamber of Commerce Committee, Calls Meeting To Further Discuss Plans for Lakes-River Canal Project.

Discussion of the progress made by the Columbus Waterway association in its efforts to bring the Great Lakes-Ohio river waterway through Marion county will be held at a dinner meeting of the waterways committee of the Chamber of Commerce tonight at 6 p. m. in Hotel Harding.

The meeting has been called by George Whysall, chairman of the committee, and French Crow, one of the members who has been active locally in the efforts to bring the waterway through the county.

Every citizen who is interested in the project is invited to attend the dinner, Whysall said.

Federal engineers still are considering four proposed routes from the Great Lakes to the Ohio river. Pittsburgh, which will benefit from two of the proposed routes, has spent thousands of dollars to win one of the two, Whysall said.

The route through Marion county would link the Sandusky and Scioto rivers with a 10-mile canal through the county. The channels of the two rivers would be deepened and widened, and an artificial lake would be formed either in Marion county or nearby to supply water for the two rivers since this section of the state is a watershed.

A fourth route suggested for the waterway would follow the old canal now located in the western part of the state but which has long been unused.

The recommendation of federal engineers, when it is made, will be given to congress for its action in appropriating sufficient money to finance the waterway

Students at Central Junior High School Learn About Law Enforcement

P[illegible]s at Central Junior High [illegible] are learning governm[illegible] in a practical way as the re[illegible] recent formation of a [illegible]trol which enforces rules [illegible]ations and a court within [illegible] which executes these [illegible]

[illegible]rol of 25 boys, one of [illegible]ganized throughout the [illegible] Mrs. Blanche Ward of the [illegible]eau of motor vehicles for [illegible]ose of reducing traffic accidents among school children, guards street intersections near the school when pupils are going to and from classes.

They also help to keep order within the building itself when classes are not in session, and when the various classes compete in the school basketball tournament at the Y. M. C. A., the patrolmen once more are on the job.

Keep on Toes

A system of merits and demerits keeps each patrolman on his toes, and those who fail to do their duties quickly are "sentenced" by the patrol court, which is presided over by Karl Bechtle of 245 East George street, chief justice, and his two assistants, Don Piatt of 694 Herman street and William Hagan of 651 Cherry street.

The boys have a great time when court is held. They go about their work in strictly legal fashion, with the exception that no jury decides the "fate" of the accused, whose guilt or innocence is decided by the three justices.

Recently one youth was accused of blacking the eye of one violator who refused to obey one of the school's traffic regulations. He was given a speedy trial, was demoted from his position of sergeant-at-arms, to that of patrolman and was given a sentence of additional patrol duty.

Can't Even Quit

He handed in his resignation but the patrol failed to accept it on grounds that he was in "bad standing" and couldn't resign. Asked his reason, he charged that the "attorney" appointed to defend him during the trial was prejudiced in favor of the patrol and consequently pointed out all his "bad points." On motion of one of the patrolmen the patrol granted him a new trial with a different "lawyer" to defend his case.

Miss Grace Colvin, a teacher in the school, is faculty sponsor of the group. Other members of the faculty committee include Miss Bessie Snider, Miss Zelmah Howard, Miss Marion Conley and John Warner, student representative. W. E. Orcutt, principal, also serves in an advisory capacity.

Kenneth Jerew of 265 South High street is president of the patrol, which is made up only of eighth and ninth grade boys. Marion Grade Students Given Gymnasium Work

Nearly 150 boys and girls in various parts of the city are benefiting from a recently inaugurated extension service of the Y. M. C. A. in which the children of elementary school age are given recreational and instructive training, according to C. C. May, director of boys work of the Y and who is in charge of the extension work.

In a typical workout for the boys last Monday afternoon, 50 boys from Glenwood and Silver street schools met at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. gymnasium for games and contests. The gymnasium floor is donated by the company for this work and the Y. M. C. A. furnishes leaders and equipment.

The Silver street basketball team defeated the Glenwood team in one of the contests. The Glenwood sixth grade was beaten by the Silver Street school sixth grade at volley ball, while Glenwood was victorious in a contest of the seventh grades at volley ball. Glenwood was also the winner in a contest between sixth grades of the school in battleball.

The Glenwood group of students meets regularly at the gymnasium each Tuesday from 3:30 to 5 p. m., in charge of May. Saturday, from 10:30 to 12 a. m., is the regular meeting time of the Silver street students.

The boys' work has proven so popular that classes for girls were recently instituted by May and Miss Rhea King. Forty-seven girls are now enrolled, although the classes have not yet been assigned time for regular meetings.

Friday from 4 to 5 p. m. the students of the North Main street school meets at the Y. M. C. A. as a part of this program.

BELLS INSTALLED

New Musical Equipment Placed in O. W. U. Dormitory.

Special to The Star.

DELAWARE, O., March 11—Fifteen carillon bells, ranging in weight from 2,200 to 325 pounds, were installed yesterday in the tower of Stuyvesant hall, Ohio Wesleyan's new dormitory for freshman women.

They will not be played, however, until the dedicatory ceremonies to be held June 6, in connection with the university's eighty-ninth annual commencement.

The bells are so constructed as to play whole chords and practically every type of musical selection. They may be operated either by an electrical keyboard in the office on the first floor of the new hall or by a hand-playing arrangement in the tower.

Frank L. S. Walter, tuner for the McShane Bell foundry company of Baltimore, which also manufactured Ohio State university's 12-bell carillon, supervised the installation of the chimes here.

For Greater Safety on Every Highway

ALL FORD CARS ARE EQUIPPED WITH SHATTER-PROOF GLASS WINDSHIELDS

FOR greater safety in driving, every Ford car is equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield. By reducing the dangers of flying glass it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile accidents.

The value of this important safety factor has been known for years, but its use has been limited by expense. It is brought to you on the Ford as standard equipment only because of the efficiency and economy of Ford methods. Much pioneering work has been done in finding ways to manufacture in large volume at low cost.

It is interesting to know how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield of the Ford is made and why it gives so much extra protection. The process of manufacture requires many separate operations, yet it can be explained in a few simple words.

Two pieces of plate glass, carefully ground and polished, are covered on one side with a thin coating of gelatine. This coating is baked hard, sprayed with liquid celluloid, and treated with a solvent.

Then, between the two pieces of glass, like the middle of a sandwich, is inserted a layer of special celluloid. This also has been treated with a solvent.

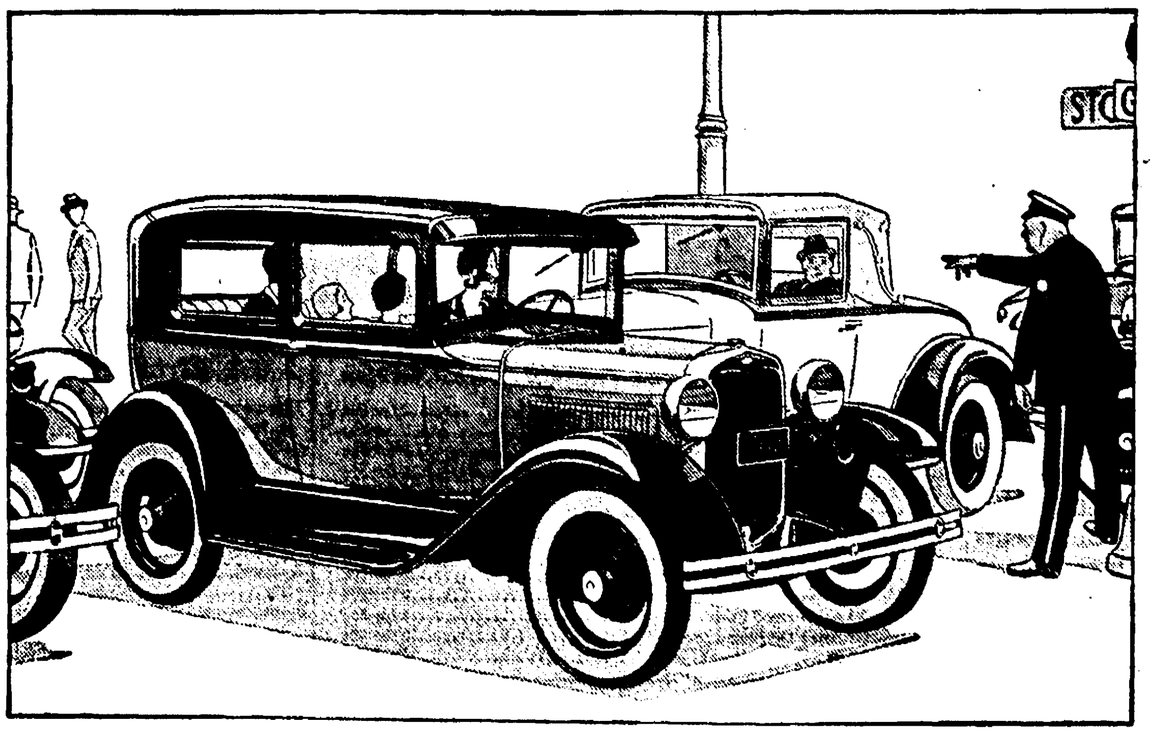
When heat and pressure are applied to the glass sandwich, this solvent helps to dissolve the surfaces in contact and they are actually fused together. It is almost like a welding process. The result is a single sheet of beautiful, clear, laminated glass. The final operation is sealing the edges as protection against air and moisture.

This laminated windshield will withstand a 50% harder impact before breaking than plate glass of equal thickness, and is more flexible under impact. When struck an unusually hard blow, it will crack, but the danger from flying glass is minimized because the pieces adhere to the layer of celluloid.

The greatest care is taken to insure uniform high quality. Plate glass is used for clear vision. One sheet in 150 is taken for test. For the impact test, a heavy steel ball is dropped sixteen feet to the center of a large sheet.

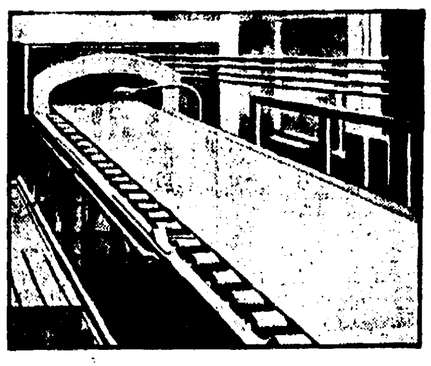
Other samples are subjected to ultra-violet rays and infra-red rays which give, in a few hours, an exposure equal to several years of normal driving. This is done to check the effect of the sun's rays and heat on the crystal clearness of the glass in actual use.

Many improvements have been made in the past three years so that today, Triplex shatter-proof glass is recognized as one of the greatest contributions to safety since four-wheel brakes. High speed and crowded traffic emphasize the need of the protection it affords. It is just another instance of the extra value in the Ford.



The Ford Tudor Sedan is an unusual value at $490

TWELVE OTHER BODY TYPES FROM $430 TO $630
All Ford prices are F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at small cost. You can purchase a Ford on economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.

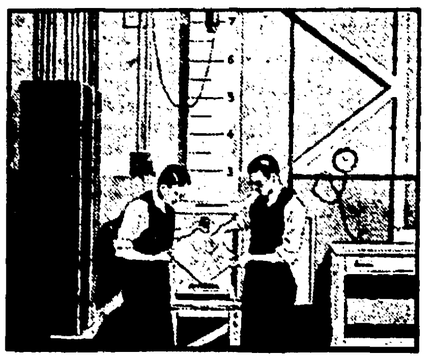


Thirteen Million Square Feet of Glass

The Ford Motor Company was the pioneer in making glass by a continuous machine process. Its manufacturing economies and unusual facilities make it possible to give you Triplex shatter-proof glass in the Ford without extra cost. The Rouge plant alone has a capacity of 13,000,000 square feet of glass annually. This calls for 27,300,000 pounds of silica sand, 8,580,000 pounds of soda ash, 7,930,000 pounds of limestone, 1,820,000 pounds of salt cake, 6,136,000 pounds of cullet, 78,000 pounds of charcoal, and 156,000 pounds of arsenic. For grinding and polishing, the machines use 118,440,000 pounds of sand, 7,873,000 pounds of stucco, 2,715,000 pounds of garnet, and 724,000 pounds of rouge.

No Flying Glass Here

A woman and three children were in this Ford when a passing car upturned a horseshoe in the road and sent it crashing into the windshield. No one was hurt because there was no flying glass.



The Impact Test

A heavy steel ball is dropped sixteen feet on the glass used for the Ford windshield as an impact test. Even under this severe blow there is no flying glass.

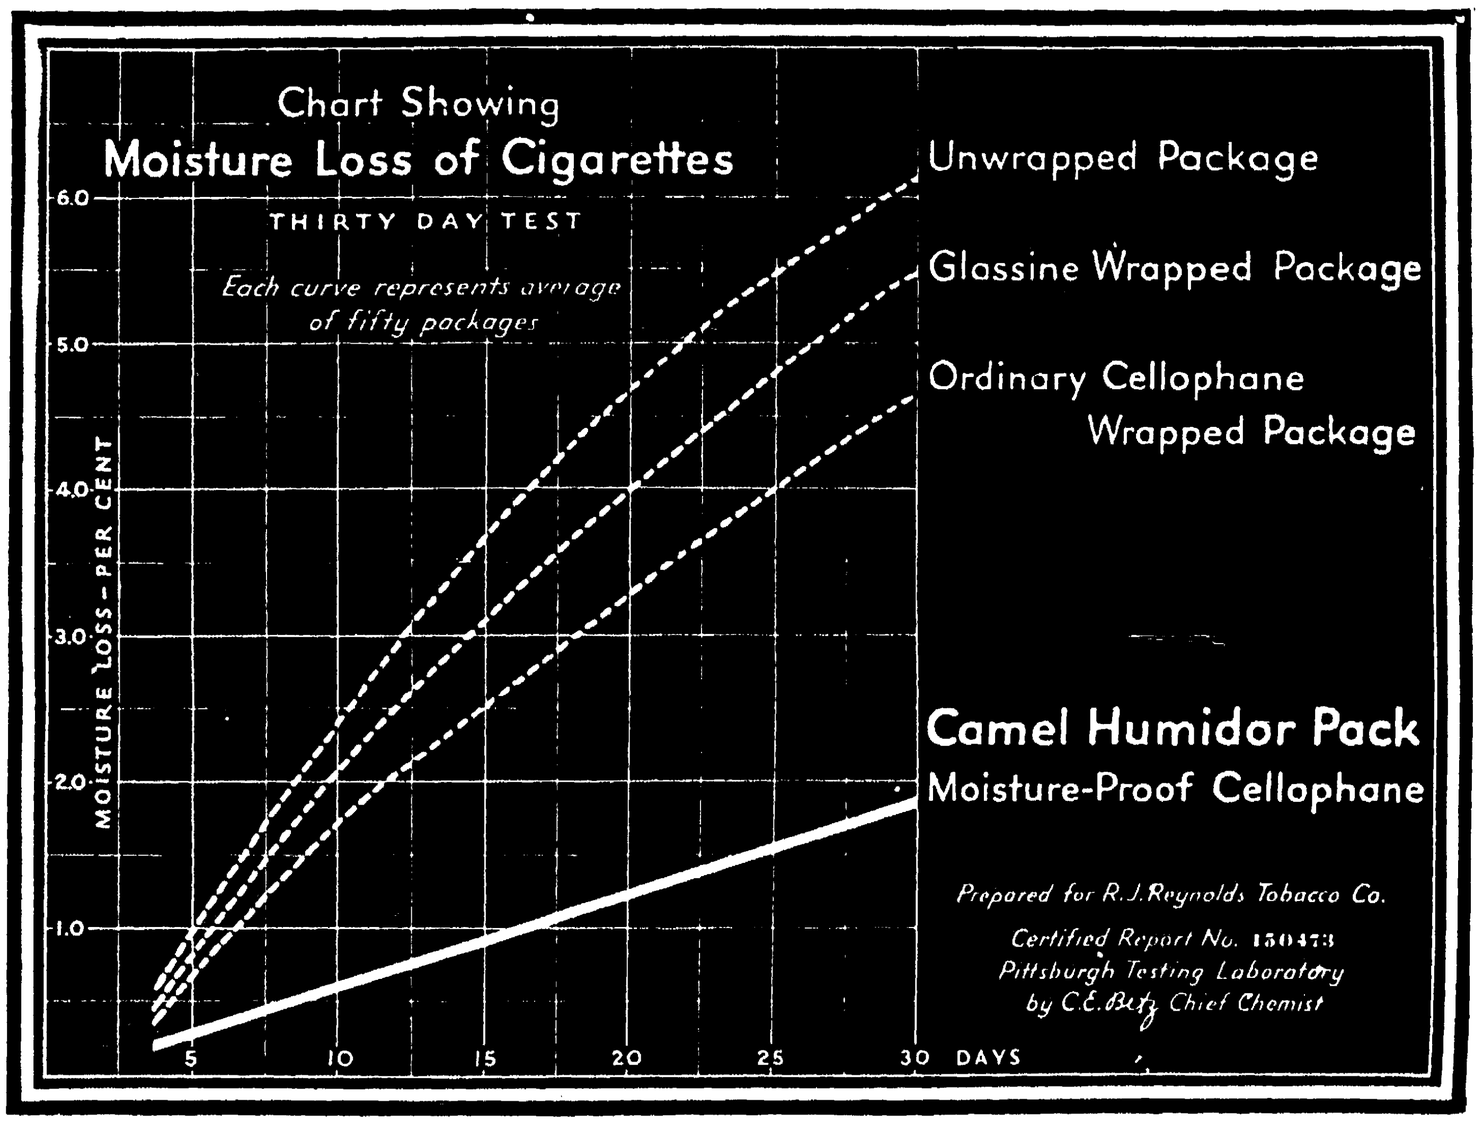
Smoke a FRESH Cigarette!



Cigarettes in prime condition have a moisture content of about 10%. It will be seen by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory Chart that cigarettes in the ordinary wrapped package lose more than half of their total moisture in thirty days and that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

THE whole country is talking about the throat-easy mildness and the prime freshness of Camel Cigarettes in the new Humidor Pack.

The above chart prepared by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory tells you why.

Please examine it carefully. It is an unfailing guide to cigarette selection and enjoyment.

As you can quickly see by the three upper curves on this interesting chart, cigarettes that lack the protection of the Humidor Pack lose their moisture rapidly from the day they are manufactured.

And day by day as this moisture disappears, the smoke from these cigarettes becomes harsher, hotter, more unkind to the smoker's throat.

Not so with Camels!

The Humidor Pack is moisture proof and sealed air-tight at every point. It protects the rich, flavorful aroma of the choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos of which Camels are blended.

Make these tests yourself

It is so easy to tell the difference between parched dry cigarettes and fresh prime Camels that it is no wonder everybody is reaching for a fresh cigarette today.

Your fingers identify stale, dried-out tobaccos at once. While a Camel is flexible and pliant.

Your ears can tell the difference too. For a dust-dry cigarette crackles under pressure.

But the real test is taste and there is simply no comparison between the rich mildness of a Camel and the hot, brackish smoke from a stale, dry cigarette.

Switch to Camels just for today then leave them tomorrow if you can.

Speaking over the radio, Sunday afternoon, a Columbus rabbi remarked that the present-day need was not an uniformity of religion, but a unity of religion. It's worth thinking over.

The year's automobile accident death toll in Chicago up to Monday was 230. Between her gangsters and her reckless drivers, life in Chicago is becoming mighty strenuous.

The Democratic candidate for mayor of Chicago has sixty one per cent. of the straw votes thus far cast, but possibly "Big Bill" Thompson doesn't feel that there is any occasion for the use of primary tactics in straw votes.

The model town to be erected to "house" the workmen on Boulder dam is expected to cost the government $2,000,000. In view of the planned expenditure on the dam, a couple of million extra will hardly be noticed.

The Republican party has its radicals, but the Democratic has its wets and its drys, and it's a fifty-fifty proposition which party is in the more unfortunate situation, so far as the making of political progress is concerned.

Professor John Davey, president of the "people's lobby," was not invited to the gathering of the 100 radicals in Washington today, the explanation being, so the wires report, that his name was omitted because of his third-party stand. The "sons of wild jackasses" evidently do not propose to be pushed out on to any third party platform till they can get a line on the possibility of its holding up.

Chairman Stone.

Alexander Legge is back in private business again after a stormy year as chairman of the federal farm board. The criticism that was hurled in his direction will be directed at James C. Stone hereafter.

Mr. Legge, retiring, expresses undiminished faith in the ultimate success of farm relief, as set into operation a little less than two years ago by the agricultural marketing act. Mr. Stone, starting, expresses the same faith. He is, interestingly enough, a specialist in farm cooperatives, one line of approach to farm relief comparatively uncontested by the farm board's critics.

Without giving either Mr. Legge or Mr. Stone credit for possessing a panacea for farm relief, it may be stated that their experiences have given them a vast knowledge of pertinent information. Yet, judged by criticism of the farm board during its year of operation, the average citizen must believe Mr. Legge a dunce, not to say a stubborn, misinformed social enemy. This is, of course, illogical. If Mr. Legge believes that farm relief is on the right track, and if Mr. Stone agrees with him, a great many people would do well to accept their confidence at face value until something is offered to dispel it.

Restoration of the background of farm relief also might discourage the throwing of cold water on the farm board's activities.

The agricultural marketing act, under which the farm board operates, followed ten years of agitation for the equalization fee, the export debenture and other unpromising proposals. The act instructs the board to "protect, control and stabilize" the marketing of agricultural products in any one or more of four ways. These are: to prevent waste in distribution, to encourage farmer-owned and farmer-controlled cooperative marketing associations, to minimize speculation and to prevent and control surpluses of any crop beyond domestic consumption requirements. The board has exercised these powers with reasonable success. The "pegging" of wheat prices, falling under prevention and control of surpluses, has been criticized bitterly, but it saved the country from a prospective slide in prices that bade fair to reach panic proportions. The critics have been able to overlook this face, conveniently.

Chairman Stone has taken over a difficult position under circumstances that are discouraging. His predecessor received scant support from the public; Mr. Stone can expect no more. Often ignorant of the farm board's operation, out of sympathy many times with the purpose of removing a burdensome penalty from agriculture by protecting it from greed and waste, the public nevertheless retains and exercises the right to criticize it bitterly, loudly—and unjustly.

Looking to World Peace?

It is a cheering thought that more influences are at work today looking to the prevention of war and more movements afoot looking to that end than ever before in the world's history. Let it not be taken that we include therein any movement by the pacificist element within our boundaries which would have our country invite aggression by becoming alone supine in the family of nations. Let us forget this element and its machinations for the present. Let us rather consider what governments and organizations and individuals are proposing to make the inauguration of war more difficult and the maintenance of world peace easier.

This week the British house of commons voted 231 to 139 to bind Great Britain to the general arbitration act of the League of Nations, which gives the World court jurisdiction in any international dispute which is not settled by diplomatic exchanges or conciliation. The Briand-Kellogg pact pledges its signatories to the pacific settlement of disputes; the general arbitration act, now approved by Great Britain, France and six lesser nations provides the machinery for arriving at such settlements.

Here at home we see Rear Admiral Samuel McGowan, retired, paymaster and chief supply officer of the navy during the World war, recommending the adoption of a constitutional amendment to prevent this country from going to war without putting our entrance into war to popular vote. We are not at all sure that this would work to keep us out of war. It was not the government which forced us into the World war, but rather the American people, rightfully incensed, who forced the government. Once we were in the war, there was much governmental propagandizing to finance the war, but it was an aroused public which caused us to enter it. Still, despite all this, war would be made more difficult were entrance into war to be decided by referendum.

We have seen the head of the American legion appear before the war policies commission sitting in Washington and insist that our national defense programs shall contemplate, in addition to a universal draft, government control over essential industries, government price-fixing and government limitation of profits. In a word, the Legion commander would have all the resources of the nation drafted in its support. Does anybody believe that such a course as this, no matter how just and sensible it may be, would popularize war among our people?

We have seen Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the war industries board during the World war, recommend before the same commission that the President be empowered to "freeze" all prices in the event of our participation in a war during its continuance. Were all prices during a war fixed by presidential proclamation at pre-war levels, would not the incentive of profiteering, which some claim has often led to war, be removed?

And now let us give our attention once more to London and listen to a Labor member of the British house of commons, Lieutenant Commander J. M. Kenworthy, broadcast over the air his belief that the acceptance by Britain of "the ancient American doctrine of the freedom of the seas will do more to bring about the freedom of the world from war than any other international agreement."

We hear this former British naval commander admit that Britain has been the worst violator of the freedom of the seas and yet stormed most at the interference and insults to which her own merchant vessels were subjected. We hear him speak of the many wars to which interference in the freedom of the seas has led, and then we hear his earnest plea that at the Geneva conference next year all the assembled powers agree to and accept this American doctrine of long standing, the violation of which was the one impelling reason for the entrance of the United States into the World war.

And all these are developments of the last seven days. With so many acts, declarations, plans and proposals the product of a seven-day period, coming from so many and so diversified sources, can it reasonably be doubted that the world mind is today more generally given to the maintenance of world peace than at any previous time in the annals of history?

From eighty to 150 killed and over 500 injured as the result of the earthquake in Jugo-Slavia! Isn't old Mother Nature ever going to get her full growth?

The second opera bouffe trial over in Moscow ended with the pronouncing of prison sentences on the fourteen defendants who showed the utmost enthusiasm in proclaiming their guiltiness in plotting against the soviet government. Had there been a "gate," the show would have passed as a box-office frost.

Harvard scientists link the world wide storms which caused great life loss and property destruction, last week, with the shaking of the earth which continued for the very unusual period of two days. But what caused the shakings is still a mystery to them. Maybe it was old Mother Earth's reaction to growing pains.

The first passenger plane of the Pan-American line arried in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Monday. And thus the anihilation of time in traveling goes on. It will not be long, but a matter of a few years only, until all civilized lands are connected with each other by a network of air lines.

The Seabury investigation in New York City has developed the fact that one of the girl victims of a police frameup suffered a broken arm as the result of the brutality of a member of the police squad which put her under arrest. Come to think of it, Mayor Jimmie Walker has mighty good reason to be shocked by the disclosures of the political rottenness in his town.

From Belfast, Ireland, comes word that the death knell of bootlegging has been sounded in Ireland, not as the result of a great moral awakening over there, but rather owing to the fact that insistent calls from New York City have taken away the more experienced distillers and the more active purveyors of the stuff men take within their mouths to steal away their brains.

DEBTS PAID—WHAT GAIN?

Debts amounting to $2,400 were canceled in sixty days in Atlanta, Georgia, by three checks through a debt-payment plan, it being stipulated that each recipient of one of the checks should use it at once to pay a creditor. The checks were cashed by the individuals or firms holding them, at a specified time.

The fact that it was shown during the time these checks traveled from hand to hand that they canceled, in one instance $1,150, in another $700, and in a third $550, raises the query: How many thousands of dollars in debts could be wiped off the slate if every debtor, able to do so, began putting such a plan into practice?

There is the further query: Just what influence on business does this canceling of debts actually exert?

The effect can best be shown perhaps by reducing the matter to a simple case. Suppose Adams owes Binks $10 and Binks owes Croy $10 and so on down a long line. Binks has $10 in his pocket—maybe more—but he hesitates to let go of it so long as Croy may demand payment before Adams pays him.

Now suppose Adams pays Binks and Binks pays Croy. So far as dollars and cents are concerned, Binks has no more and no less than he had before. But he has received his money from Adams and he is no longer under obligation to Croy. Consequently he feels freer to spend the $10 he was keeping in his pocket.

Perhaps Croy had no $10 in his pocket, but has paid off $10 he owed to Drake, the grocer, and now Drake can afford to extend him credit for another $10 worth of goods.

Thus the $10 which canceled the original debts has not directly added anything to the capital of the community, nor has it directly exerted a demand for any new goods or employment. But indirectly—Ah, there is the point!—it has opened the way for new consumption of goods, and new turning of the wheels of business, for it has changed the general mental attitude by placing the former debtor-creditors in a position where they are freer to buy either with part of their reserves or upon new credit. Hence, if this example is repeated throughout the community and the nation, increased production and improved business will follow.—Christian Science Monitor.

THE FIGHT ON CANNED MUSIC.

Walter Damrosch, a noted conductor who has done much toward popularizing good music by broadcasting admirable programs by radio, advises the organized musicians of the United States to discontinue their fight on what they call canned music and music transmitted mechanically.

History, says Mr. Damrosch, proves the futility of opposition to technical improvements and labor-saving and time-saving devices. Canned music and broadcasting have come to stay, and, instead of waging a hopeless battle, the musicians displaced by those instrumentalities would better turn their attention to the organization of orchestras of various sizes in the smaller cities and towns.

That is sound advice. The unemployed musicians have the sympathy of the public, but the public will not give up radio or the phonograph. Indeed, no such renunciation is necessary. The demand for living music is being stimulated, not decreased, by the mechanical devices for the popularization of music. There is room for many additional symphony orchestras, quartets and trios. Such organizations, to avoid difficulties, should be cooperative in character, and free to adapt their conditions and terms to varying local situations.

The musicians should enlist the aid of civic organizations and cultural societies and clubs in the effort to minister to the musical tastes of the great public, and gradually develop and refine those tastes. Constructive work should take the place of negative and destructive campaigns that manifestly hold no promise of success.—Chicago News.

BUSINESS MEN IN THE SENATE.

One member of the federal senate who bade farewell to that august body the other day and will not return, Mr. Gould, of Maine, has been quoted as saying that it was useless for a business man of ability, experience and self-respect to be a senator "while the present clack is going on." The fact that a lone senator, Thomas of Oklahoma, was able by a willful filibuster to prevent action on three important measures in the closing hours of the session tempts many to echo Mr. Gould's declaration.

Yet Mr. Gould took the wrong position on a matter of national importance. It is decidedly worth while for able men of affairs to enter the senate of the United States.

Evidently Senator Morrow thinks so. He kept his promise to remain silent—to be seen, not heard—during the late session. He chose to listen, observe, vote, "learn the game," in his own words. But as a senator he is an asset to the nation. When he chooses to speak the American public will listen with interest. So it would in the case of other men of Senator Morrow's type. Congress and the nation need them in the senate.—Chicago News.

Stuttering Can Be Overcome.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Stuttering in adult life is often the result of neglect in childhood. Attention in youth may have overcome the defect.

This is a common form of speech disturbance. The stutterer is able to articulate each word, but he has difficulty in connecting words.

Stuttering is most commonly seen in children between the third and fourth years, before speech expression is entirely mastered. It may be founded upon disturbances in nutrition. Anyhow, it is made worse by any nutritional disorder.

Where malnutrition is the underlying cause, stuttering is a temporary affliction, lasting only for a few weeks. With physical improvement the speech disorder soon disappears.

Quite frequently stuttering follows some acute illness. Under such conditions it usually is of short duration, disappearing shortly after a return to health.

These mild and temporary conditions need not cause any alarm. It is with the chronic stutterers that we are chiefly concerned. Most children with a tendency in this direction do not show signs of it until they reach the age of six or seven, or even later. Sometimes it is caused by imitation and possibly heredity is a factor. Marked nervous disorders usually underlie permanent stuttering.

All cases should receive early treatment. This treatment must be started before the habit becomes firmly fixed.

To bring about recovery it may be necessary for the child to receive systematic training in a special school. This training consists essentially of breathing exercises and vocal gymnastics.

Do not assume that your child is fundamentally perfect and will "outgrow" his stammering or stuttering. It is important that all underlying causes be removed. For this reason wise advice is important. If the stammering persists, special training must be had as soon as possible.

Stammering is a handicap that no child should be expected to bear without every aid that can be found. Since it can usually be corrected in childhood, there is every hope of full recovery.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

MISS D. B. Q—What diet should I follow to eradicate pimples and other blemishes on the face?

2—What can I do to reduce?

A—Avoid excessive sugars and too much starchy food and be sure to keep the system clear.

2—For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

MRS. H. A. Q—I am thirty years old and my hair is rapidly turning gray. What can I do to stop it? Is it due to anything in the blood—is the health involved in any way? It is not hereditary.

A—There is nothing you can do to stop it. However, if the hair is kept immaculately clean and well groomed and your general health is good, the fact that it is gray should not prove to be a detriment. A good stimulating tonic should be helpful in keeping the scalp and hair in good condition. Half Way Between Atom and Star.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

It has been well said that the universe is made up of atoms and stars. The one we may think of as a microcosm—or little universe; the other as a microcosm—or big universe. The atom is not unlike the universe itself. Perhaps the universe is only an atom enormously expanded. Perhaps the solar system itself is an expanded atom, with the planets, asteroids and other bodies revolving about the sun as the analogs of electrons inside the atom. For the atom, like the universe, is very largely empty—full of huge holes. The amount of matter, in both the atom and the universe, is relatively small—as compared with the amount of empty or unoccupied space.

Man himself is a sort of halfway house between the atom and the star. Shapley has recently described man, from the standpoint of chemistry, as a rather uninteresting colloidal substance. But from the standpoint of intelligence and sensibility, man is enormously important. For man takes in the universe through the instrumentality of his senses. The universe thus lives in man; and conversely man lives in the universe.

We are constantly hesitating upon the verge of great discoveries in science. But the more we advance along the pathway of knowledge, the wider becomes the horizon of the unknown. We are constantly solving problems. But for each problem, we encounter many more which have not yet been solved. Science is but a means of disclosing our increasing ignorance. As the poet, Alexander Pope, has put it:

So man, who here seems principal alone,
Perhaps acts second to some sphere unknown,
Touches some wheel, on verges to some goal;
'Tis but a part we see, and not the whole.

It is customary to conclude that modern science, in the larger sense, has its true initiation with Sir Isaac Newton. Were the minds of early men inferior to those of modern times? The anthropologists tells us no. The trouble with the earlier generations of men was that they had not only not learned how to organize their knowledge; they had not learned to correlate and integrate. It was not a defect of mind, but of method, not a weakness of intellect, but of technic.

The modern scientist is characterized by two qualities. First, experimentation—in the laboratory or in the field. Second, comes the exercise of the imaginative mind, to correlate all the discovered facts and to devise a comprehensive theory that will fit and embrace them all. In a very real sense, the great contemporary scientist is a universe-maker.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

World of Toradjas.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

Books have been written about Java and Bali recently, pointing out how un-Europeanized those Oriental show-places are. Celebes, Dutch East Indian island, is far less touched by the civilizing influences than either Java or Bali.

Aside from the nature of the Toradjas, who inhabit Celebes, the lack of good roads to the mountainous interior would keep away most tourists.

The Toradjas are pagans and formerly were headhunters. Until a very few years ago, very little was known about these people, who are so primitive that they use pointed sticks for ploughing.

A curious thing about the Toradjas is that the men wear almost no clothing and the women wear so much clothes that their movements are often impeded. The women splash paint of several colors on their faces. Their clothes are made from a soft bark which, once donned, is rarely changed. Their tall decorative head-dress is also made of this bark.

The Toradjas are a strong-bodied people. The men shave their heads in front and file their teeth. They have a very high moral standard and are, unlike the inhabitants of Bali and Java, very democratic. Although they have divided themselves into three divisions—the sects are not antagonistic or overbearing towards one another.

The people of the island are very successful rice-growers, but have no money-making inclinations. They have been almost unaffected by outside religion and the feasts and the rites of their pagan belief are the strangest things about these very strange folk.

The Toradja village is usually located on plateaus. The houses are situated on cross-legs and stands a few feet above the ground. One enters them by climbing ladders.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, March 11—New York debutantes are no longer the carefully sheltered hothouse flowers. Nor coy maids with eyes cast demurely down. They have been places and seen things long before their official "coming-out" party. And enter the room with a whoop.

Formerly nothing more potent than claret lemonade was served at a debut. Today the girls are likely to start festivities with "side cars." Indeed, there is a story that at one affair this winter a slightly weaving and bleary debutante could only mumble her greetings.

The new democratization does not apply solely to the debbie, for society itself as an institution has lost much of its snobbishness. There is no longer a social bell cow. The carefully selected "Four Hundred" is way up in the thousands and growing.

At the most exclusive function there is usually a sprinkling of stage and screen stars along with the latest illicit caper-cutting Don Juan. Many rich society boys carry around court jesters who go into their clowning when things become a little dull.

The best man at the wedding of a rich society youth recently was a writer of humor and the bridesmaid was a comedienne in musical comedy. Smart social dinners are now always given in de luxe cafes, but often some popular side street speakeasy.

The most successful bal masque of the winter was sponsored by Vera Maxwell, a sort of female Harry Lehr, whose bubbling conviviality is so well known around the cocktail room of the Paris Ritz and along the French and Italian Rivieras. Miss Maxwell is not in the "Social Register."

Once upon a time the stateliest and most exclusive dinners were given by such elegants as Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. William Waldorf Astor. Then, too, there was the widely heralded Bradley Martin ball. Such stiff affairs are no longer favored. Society considers them deadly monotonous.

Anna May Wong, the Chinese actress, is becoming one of the Broadway toasts, adding the touch Orientale and a tinkling laugh to the gathering of sophisticates. Miss Wong is reputedly adept at the smart retort, and her evening gowns cause many heads to turn.

Floyd Gibbons' immaculate white eye patch is not a forced symbol of his courage in action. He would have long ago substituted a glass eye for the one he lost at Chateau Thierry had it not been the lower lid was shot away.

In a cafe today a cigaret smoking flapper yelled to a passing boy friend: "You are a fine piece of zero standing me up last night. You are a bum and that's in italics."

Bugs Baer started out a sport page artist and became one of the keenest paragraphers. His life otherwise is a clutter of contradiction. He scarcely ever reads periodicals devoted to his metier—humor. Instead he reads heavy classical tomes. While frequently seen where kilowatts are thickest, he is as often seen in the stately gloom of museums and art galleries. He can discuss Lucius Sergius Catalina, Lola Montez or Mahomet as informally as he can discuss Ted Healy, Jimmy Durante or Tom Guinan. Like most humorists, his expression is dour, but he knows how to laugh at the other fellow's joke. And when he laughs he roars.

Ice skating has never been an uncontrollable passion. In fact any one wanting my skates used twice, can make a trade almost any day up to 3 o'clock p. m., by any of the various times. Yet ice skating grows in popularity yearly in New York. New rinks spring up daily with waiting lines and an invention now makes it possible to flood a room in any home and have ice skating as quickly as tea is brewed. Incidentally, until coming to New York I had the fixed idea the Winter garden was a skating rink.

Medical Education in 1826.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

An account of the commencement exercises of the Ohio Medical college at Cincinnati on March 14, 1826, as given in the old Cincinnati Gazette, throws a sidelight on the education of that day. Seventeen regular medical degrees were granted and two honorary degrees. The names of the graduates and the subjects of their themes are given thus:

Charles V. Barbour, Cincinnati, "The Medical Topography of Louisville;" Alfred Beardsley, Decatur, Ohio, "Empiricism;" William B. Chamberlain, Switzerland county, Indiana, "Gastritis;" John E. Bush, Cincinnati, "Dyspepsia;" Joseph F. Cliff, Wooster, "Injurious Effects of the Use of Ardent Spirits;" Jacob B. Drake, Greenville, Illinois, "Malarious Fever," Aaron T. Hendrick, Milford, Ohio, "The Stomach As the Preliminary Seat of Most Disease;" Joseph Johnson, Xenia, "The Physiology of the Stomach;" James T. Johnson, Cincinnati, "Autumnal Fevers in the Western Country." Joshua Mills, Cincinnati, "Hepatitis;" N. P. S. Prentice, Portland, Maine, "Disease of the Antrim Maxillaire;" John G. Rogers, New Richmond, Ohio, "Dysentary;" Melancthon Rogers, Cincinnati, "Ephemera Puerpalis." Neal Rowell, Covington, Kentucky, "Endemial Sick Stomach," and Hiram Todd, Fort Wayne, Indiana, "Identity of Gonorrheal and Syphilitic Matters."

More change from the medical ideas of that day to those of today would probably appear in the treatment of the subjects discussed by the graduates than is suggested in the titles of the papers.

The honorary degrees were presented to John Sellman, Cincinnati, and Alexander Campbell, Ripley, Ohio. Nothing is said as to why they were thus honored, but they were probably in practice without having taken a full medical course, and meeting success that was seemed warrant for thus recognizing them.

Dinner Stories.

"Were you ever a reformer?"

"Oh, yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "But I found that being a reformer is like a great many other things. Success depends on knowing just when to quit."

Two women were talking over the back fence about one of their neighbors.

"Who was she before she was married?" asked one.

"I don't know," said the other, "but here comes her little boy, maybe he can tell us. Oh, Willie," she called to the child, "who was your mother before she was married?"

"Aw, go sell your peanuts," said Willie. "She wasn't my mother before she was married."

C. O. —"You are on report for knocking this man unconscious. What have you to say?"

Boatswain's Mate—"Sir, I hit him, but he was unconscious before he joined this man's navy."

The obliging pianist had rendered several selections, when one of the admiring group of listeners suggested that he play "The Twelfth Mass." Several people echoed the request and one lady in particular cried out enthusiastically, "Oh, do play it. My husband belonged to that very regiment."

William, what are the two genders?"

"Masculine and feminine. The feminines are divided into frigid and torrid, and masculines into temperate and intemperate."

MYSTERY-ROMANCE COMES TO OHIO FOR 3-DAY RUN

"Captain Applejack" To Be Here Thursday; Mary Burns in Cast.

"CAPTAIN APPLEJACK," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which comes to the Ohio theater Thursday for a three-day run, is a picturization of the mystery-romance which took Broadway by storm several seasons ago.

The picture has to do with a scholarly but timid Englishman who wishes to get away from the humdrum of his ancestral castle and the companionship of his old maid aunt, as well as that of his pretty ward, Poppy.

His attorney advises him to sell the castle, and to set forth for the far places. It is shortly after this that his home is overrun by an odd assortment of supposed crooks. After an exciting bout with them, Applejohn, the Englishman, sleeps and dreams he is his ancestor, Captain Applejack, the pirate. Then begins a strange medley of outlandish events.

Chicago Art Lecturer Speak At Meeting of Art Club Her

AN interesting and entertaining talk, "The Enjoyment of Modern Painting," was given by Dudley Crafts Watson of the Chicago Art Institute last evening in the ballroom at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Watson was presented under the auspices of the Art club and the lecture afforded persons interested in art a rare opportunity to hear the views of one of the outstanding lecturers of the country on the work of leading artists of the times. Only a limited number of tickets were sold outside the club membership and arrangements for the lecture were in charge of Miss Belle Johnston.

Stereopticon reproductions of paintings of artists of earlier centuries together with those of modern artists of this and other countries were shown by Mr. Watson to illustrate his talk and bring out his comparisons. With the clearly defined and understandable description in the artist's talk the audience was given a clear insight to the theme of the subjects and the interpretations of the painters.

The work of earlier artists furnished vivid contrasts to the modern paintings proving the speaker's assertation that "every age has produced its own art and immortalized that age."

"Science and art go hand in hand," Mr. Watson stated, "and modern art is keeping pace with modern inventions such as the radio, airplane and other marks of progress." The painter with the seven colors does with them what the musician does with the seven notes of music in the interpretations of the emotions of living, the speaker brought out and he gave the rapid pace at which the world and the people are moving today as the reason for the numerous and somewhat startling types of painting of the present age. An epoch used to be 500 years and the people enjoyed the pictures expressing that period, but now," he stated, "we have an epoch every 10 days."

Mr. Watson brought out the beauty in the work of many of the modern painters and paid a tribute to Bellows' "The Eter Crucifixion."

By Percival Christopher Wren Author of MYSTERIOUS WAYE

BEAU GESTE
BEAU IDEAL

(Copyright, 1931, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.)

SYNOPSIS:

The mysterious John Waye is a problem to Dr. Charters. Because he knows of the physician's criminal career, he receives from Charters an alibi for the murder of "Spider" Schlitz and is admitted to his dwelling home. There he meets Marjorie Lauderdell, puzzled by her lingering illness. Her mother, Mrs. Lauderdell, was formerly a companion of Charters' American days. Perhaps, thinks the doctor, Waye knows that he robbed Schlitz and Frank Dorson of their shares of the St. Clair diamond "job."

MacAdoo's suggestion to "bump him off" is rejected by Charters, who decides to have Waye's pretended delusions classified as insanity and remove him. Waye, encountering MacAdoo, reveals his knowledge of his past life of crime and asks him what he is getting out of "the Marjorie Lauderdell business." Startled, MacAdoo offers to put his cards on the table" if Waye

A Night Visit

AGAIN John Waye's peal of laughter expressed more of amusement than of compliment.

"Look here, Manoel," he said, resting a hand on Dr. MacAdoo's shoulder, "you tell the good Dr. Charters that you want a half share of the Lauderdell 10,000 pounds."

And turning, John Wye, unlocked the door of Dr. MacAdoo's consulting-room.

"Don't go!" cried Dr. MacAdoo. "Won't you stop and have a drink?"

"No, thank you," replied John Waye as he opened the door. "God keep us from a doctor who tries experiments, and from an ass that brays—as we say in Brazil, eh?"

From the consulting-room of Dr. Emmanuel MacAdoo, the eccentric Mr. Waye went in search of that gentleman's colleague, Dr. Studley, the third and best-beloved of the doctors who, with undeniable skill, coped with varied genuine and imaginary ills to which the minds and bodies of the inmates of the Monastery were heirs.

Dr. Studley was engaged as two

"No, my dear. You don't say! Drugs and drink and vice! And such a splendid doctor, too. But Mrs. Skinner, are you sure?"

"Sure, my dear!" interrupted the narrator, a small insignificant woman with rather untidy hair, dowdy clothes and a total lack of any kind of distinction—a woman whom John Waye watched with great interest.

"Why, my husband's a doctor, and was at Edinburgh university with him. He could have climbed to any height. Absolutely brilliant, but he drank even then like a fish. He went his round absolutely drunk and when people told him their symptoms he laughed so that he fell off his chair. And then one day they brought a street accident into his surgery, and though he was so drunk that he hardly seemed to know which was the patient, he performed what all the doctors said was absolutely the most marvelous operation that had ever been done.

"And then he got six months' imprisonment for going to some poor working-woman and falling into a drunken sleep while she died from want of attention. That

Naming the Baby Promises Not To Be Simple Ceremony

JUNIOR'S announcement that he and Roderick had a scheme which made them "not care even if the "grown-ups did decide upon something different from the names they had selected for the baby, made me a bit uneasy, for I knew something of the fantastic wanderings of a small boy's mind.

"What is your scheme?" I asked with apparent carelessness.

"Aw, Mums! Aw, Auntie Madge!" they chorused, dismay written upon both their faces. "Do we have to tell, now? It's only if the grown-ups choose something different, and you know it's very probable that they'll take our names. And we'd like awful well to keep it a secret. It ain't isn't anything bad, honor bright it isn't."

It Was Jerry's Idea

"Very well," I conceded, for if it be at all possible to keep out, I do not interfere with their boyish secrets. "If you'll be careful about the 'ain'ts' I'll not ask you tell your scheme now."

"We'll be awful careful. Just watch us," they promised. "May we go to breakfast now and may we tell everybody about our names?"

"Not everybody," I decided making the terms as favored me with many minutes of conversations since I came home, her theme song being always, the naming of the child. Look here, she hasn't had a real tantrum for many moons, has she?—oh, I don't mean going through her regular exercises — those little flurries of temper only last a few minutes—but a regular three-or-four-day-sniffer'"

"Not for a long time," I said with mounting uneasiness.

"Well, take my tip, she's getting ready to shoot the works. She's so eaten up by jealousy of you over this name business that she could see around a corner, her eyes are
